

An Easy Way to Report Street Lights Out

If you see a street light out in Longwood Village, there's an easy way to report the problem and get it corrected. Just go online to www.centerpointenergy.com/outage/ or call 713-207-2222. CenterPoint Energy is the company responsible for maintaining street lights in the community.

On the homepage, click "Houston." On that page, you'll see a box with a menu of "Quick Click" topics. Select "Report a Street Light Outage." From there, it's just a matter of filling out a short form. While providing the six-digit street light number (posted on every light) is not required, providing this information will help CenterPoint resolve the problem much quicker.
